

Lieutenant Colonel John Hathaway

Australian Defence Force

BIOGRAPHY

Lieutenant Colonel John Hathaway joined the Army and entered the Royal Military College in January 1982. He holds a BA (UNSW) and a Grad Dip in Transport and Distribution Management (RMIT). He is also a graduate from the Canadian Forces College, Toronto.

He has held a wide variety of appointments, in the area of military transport and logistics. He has commanded at Troop, Squadron and Battalion levels. His last command, 10th Force Support Battalion is the largest field logistic unit in the Army.

His operational service includes a posting as an Observer for the United Nations (Sinai & Lebanon) and he deployed at short notice as part of Australian disaster relief operations in Banda Aceh.

He has represented Australia at the Logistic Staff Talks on the 'Provision of Logistic Support to Humanitarian and Disaster Relief Operations' in Tokyo.

Currently he is working on the M$700 of major facilities work for Lavarack Barracks and NQLD Training Areas.